

Relaunch of Eckington Village Info Website

New Look

The Eckington Village Info website has been relaunched with a new look and some new functionality.

<https://eckington.info>

The relaunched site is also mobile device friendly.

New Functionality

What's On

We have introduced a calendar feature to be able to show events of interest to the village. These are displayed on the homepage and can also be accessed via the What's On menu

Home / What's On / Calendar

Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat
30	1	2	3	4	5	6
7	Village Hall AGM	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	Annual Parish Meeting	17	18	19	Eckington Open Gardens and Flower Festival

If you have an event that you would like to have included you can either email the details to me at website@eckington.info or there is an online form available from the What's On menu to send the details directly to me.

Home / What's On / Request Event

Please provide details of the event that you would like to be included into the village calendar and your contact details.

You must provide valid details for the requester. We reserve the right to confirm details prior to including the event in the calendar

Village Directory

I have started work on the Village Directory. The aim is to provide a mechanism to allow you to easily find useful contact details.

At present, I have limited scope to Councils, Utilities and a generic Useful category. I plan to extend this to include groups, clubs, organisations and businesses in the coming weeks.

I will only add details for those organisations that provide me with their details. I will communicate how you can request inclusion in the directory in the near future.

Your input

The success of the site will be very dependent on the community engagement. As such, please feel free to provide feedback and suggestions either via email to website@eckington.info or via the contact form Contact Us \(eckington.info\)

I would also appreciate any submissions of news or photos which can be sent to website@eckington.info. If you are sending photos for inclusion please ensure that you are either the owner of the image or that you have permission from the owner for the image to be published.
